

What is xMinds?

xMinds is a nonprofit organization whose mission is to improve education for autistic students in Montgomery County.

How do we improve education for autistic students?

- We maintain a free website of information about special education for autistic students in Montgomery County.
- We host free speaker events and webinars, discussion groups, and social events.
- We provide free guidance to parents who have questions about special education in Montgomery County.
- We provide funding to educators for classroom supplies and autism trainings.

And so much more... all for free!

Visit our website to see all our resources for parents and educators <https://xminds.org>

All xMinds resources and events are FREE and available in Spanish and English

Have Other Questions?

Check out the Partnership for Extraordinary Minds website at www.xMinds.org

Which MCPS Program is right for my child?

What are some accommodations I can request for my child?

How can I find out more about advocating successfully for my child's IEP?

Where can I see a map of MCPS special education programs?

How can I find out about xMinds events and other local autism-related events?

How can I keep up to date on xMinds activities?

How do we prepare for life after graduation?

How can I join the xMinds list serve to keep up with local autism events?

Who runs xMinds?

How can I access recorded xMinds webinars in English?

How does xMinds receive its funding?

What are some good local summer camps for children on the spectrum?

